

Danish Orchestra To Perform Here During U.S. Tour

Tuxen Will Conduct Concert In Coliseum

UK will be one of 10 universities in the United States to hear a concert by the Danish National Orchestra during its American tour this fall.

Presented by the Central Kentucky Community Concert and Lecture Series, the Orchestra will perform at 8:15 p.m. Monday in Memorial Coliseum.

Under the royal patronage of King Frederick IX of Denmark, the Danish Symphony is making a good will tour introducing 96 musicians to America.

Thomas Jensen Will Conduct

Conductors are Erik Tuxen and Thomas Jensen, who is making his first appearance in the United States. Mr. Tuxen, who has been guest conductor with the Philadelphia, Boston, Cleveland, and National Symphonies, will conduct the concert.

During the past two summers, the Orchestra visited the Festival of Britain and the Edinburgh Music Festival. Under the auspices of Columbia Artists' Management and the American Scandinavian Foundation, The Orchestra came to the United States early in October.

Included on the Monday night program will be the "Euryanthe Overture," by Carl Maria von Weber; "Symphony in D Minor," by Cesar Franck; "Little Suite for Strings in A minor—Opus No. 1," by Carl Nielsen, Danish composer, and "The Firebird Suite," by Igor Stravinsky.

The American tour will be limited to six weeks since the Orchestra is scheduled to return to Copenhagen for its regular season. Concerts will be played in 30 cities and at nine other universities including Princeton, Cornell, Connecticut College, University of Michigan, Michigan State, Indiana State, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, and Hampton Institute.

Students will be admitted to all Community concerts and lectures upon presentation of their ID cards.

Absent from the picture are Jean Ford, Marilyn Bergman and Sally Trimble.

Football Game To Be Staged By 22 Girls

Governor Will Act As Water Boy In Homecoming Event

A mock football game will be the theme of the homecoming pep rally at 7 p.m. next Friday in front of Memorial Coliseum, Carol Milkey, pep rally chairman of Suky, said this week.

The two teams will consist of 22 girls, dressed as football players. The girls will wear helmets, practice jerseys, and blue jeans. Each team will have a coach, trainer, and manager.

Members of the UK football team will act as cheer leaders. Tentative officials for the game will be President Herman Donovan, down marker, Gov. Lawrence Wetherby, water boy, Coach Adolph Rupp, referee, and other faculty members.

Miss Margie McLaughlin, former professor of journalism, will be mistress of ceremonies at the half time festivities. She will introduce past UK football players, cheerleaders, and members of the alumni association.

The University band will be present at the rally.

Students To Choose Queen

The homecoming queen will be chosen this year by students instead of by judges as in previous years. Students can cast their votes next Wednesday at the Student Union ticket booth.

The UK Alumni Association, under the direction of Robert Hillenmeyer, homecoming chairman, has completed its plans for homecoming day, Nov. 8.

Welcoming committees consisting of two members each from the executive board and two members of Suky will be stationed at registration tables in the Lafayette, Phoenix, Kentuckian hotels, Campbell House, the Coliseum, and the Student Union at 9:30 a.m. All returning alumni are urged to register at one of these places.

Alumni To Have Dance

The Alumni Association will be host to all visiting alumni at a free dance in the ballroom of the Lafayette hotel from 8:30 a.m. to midnight. An orchestra will provide music for dancing and the ballroom will be arranged cabaret style to permit guests to sit down and talk with their friends.

A between-halves feature of the homecoming game will be the presentation of the Alma Magna Mater award to the "Alumnus of the Year." This annual presentation is made by the members of Alma Magna Mater to the man or woman among the alumni who has contributed the most unselfish service to the University. The group of students is made up of children and grandchildren of University alumni.

Six Are Nominated To Succeed Trustee

Frank D. Peterson, UK Comptroller and secretary of the Board of Trustees, recently announced that ballots listing the names of six persons to succeed H. D. Palmore of Frankfort as an alumnus member of the Board have been distributed to University alumni.

Mr. Palmore's term will expire Dec. 31. Alumni ballots must be in the secretary's office by Dec. 8, the day before the December meeting of the board, Mr. Peterson said.

Kentucky statutes provide that three members of the Board of Trustees shall be appointed by the governor from the alumni of the University. One of these must be appointed biennially from three alumnus members selected by the UK Alumni Association.

Nominees selected by the Alumni Executive Committee for the four-year term are Dr. Ralph Angelucci of Lexington, neurosurgeon; Marshall Barnes of Owensboro, president of the Beaver Dam Deposit Bank; Fleming Bowlds of Owensboro, realtor; Edwin Ray Denney of Mt. Vernon, attorney; Robert H. Hillenmeyer of Lexington, businessman; J. Stephen Watkins of Lexington, consulting engineer.

Alumni may vote for three candidates in the election and are free to add the names of any other alumni for the nominations. According to Kentucky law, Gov. Lawrence Wetherby is required to appoint the new member from the three nominees drawing the most votes.

Alumni members currently serving on the board with Palmore are Herndon J. Evans, Pineville, and Guy Huguette, Lexington.

Veterans Studying On Korean G.I. Bill To Report Monthly

Veterans on the Korean G.I. Bill must report between the first and third of each month to the University Personnel Office, Veterans Division, to complete a form to be sent to the Veterans Administration Regional Office, the Personnel Office announced this week.

Since the VA requires that these forms be in Louisville by a given date, the Veterans Office will not accept a certification after the third of the month. The VA must have completed forms each month before allowance checks will be sent.

If a veteran fails to submit the above form for two months in succession, he is automatically removed from the payroll.

Three Professors Attend Conference

The University will be represented at the 1952 annual Southeastern Archaeological Conference in Macon, Ga., today and Saturday by three University personnel.

The three are Dr. Frank J. Essene and Mr. Raymond Thompson of the Anthropology department, and Mr. Daniel Jacobson of the Geography department.

Mr. Jacobson, one of the tentative program leaders, will show movies on the Coasati Indians of Louisiana. These movies were made by Mr. Jacobson while studying in Louisiana. Indians and their habitat is the principal subject of the conference.

Annual Room Judging To Be Held Nov. 16

The room judging contest, sponsored annually by the House Presidents' Council, will be held Nov. 16. It will be preceded by a room judging in which each sorority will judge its own house and decide its winner. This' winner will represent that sorority in the campus-wide contest.

The individual rooms are judged on neatness in appearance and originality in work to improve the comfort of the room. A prize is also given to the sorority house with the best overall appearance.

The officers of the House Presidents' Council are Pat Hervey, president; Joyce Stephens, vice-president; Barbara Russman, secretary; and Marlene Farmer, treasurer.

Lt. Brokaw To Interview For Marines

Lt. Clifford Brokaw, district Marine procurement officer, is on campus today to interview prospective candidates for the Marine Platoon Leaders Class and Officers Candidate Course. Vice President Leo M. Chamberlain announced this week.

Both of these programs provide a complete deferment and lead to a commission as a Second Lieutenant. Men who enrolled attend no drills during the college year. The PLC's go to two six weeks summer camps, and the OCC's go to one ten weeks summer camp. Both groups have but two years of active duty required.

Lt. Brokaw will be in Room 204 of the Student Union until 3 p.m. today to interview students.

Kyian To Crown Queen At Dance Tomorrow

The 1953 Kentuckian Queen will be crowned at the annual Kentuckian dance, sponsored by Lamp and Cross, Saturday night in the Student Union Ballroom. The queen will be one of the seven finalists chosen Wednesday night in Memorial Hall.

Finalists and their sponsors are Barbara Baldwin, Boyd Hall; Gay Hamilton, Delta Delta Delta; Barbara Lee, Alpha Delta Pi; Joan Martin, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Lucille Mills, Kappa Alpha Theta; Carmen Figue, Chi Omega; and Hildegard Taylor, Kappa Delta.

The judges for the contest Wednesday night were Cissy Gregg, fashion columnist for the Louisville Courier-Journal; William Ogden, professional photographer from Winchester; and Harold Davis, Roto magazine and cover photographer on the Louisville Courier-Journal.

Queen Selected
After the seven finalists were chosen, the judges chose the queen, and placed her name in a sealed envelope. Corky Glass, publicity chairman of Lamp and Cross, said that the queen's identity will not be revealed until Saturday night.

Botanical Gardens Will Have New Green-Tinted Sidewalks

By Barbara Hickey

In line with current national demands for de-emphasis, the new sidewalks through UK's botanical gardens are being tinted green. UK Comptroller Frank D. Peterson reported this week.

The Comptroller explained that the green concrete will make the sidewalks almost the same color as the grass.

The new sidewalks are all part of a current program to beautify the gardens, Mr. Peterson asserted. He said that a two-level terrace, flagstone walk, and several short flights of stone stairs are being built in the small valley between the north and south wings of the Fine Arts building by the Maintenance and Operations Department. Two large tulip beds and various shrubs already have been planted in this area.

Walks Defaced By Pockets
Mr. Peterson said for some time the walk from the Fine Arts building through the gardens gradually has been defaced by water pockets because the walk is actually the top of a storm sewer which has no drain. Three inches of green concrete is being poured over the sewer to eliminate this situation.

The old diagonal garden walk, built of separated flag stones back in WPA days, was removed and another green concrete walk laid in its place. Mr. Peterson said the flagstones were very uncomfortable to walk on and a foot path had been made around them by persons who didn't want to stay on the walk.

'Welcome The Cats' At 2:30 Tomorrow

Suky will sponsor a "welcome back" Saturday afternoon for the UK football team returning from their game with Miami tonight. Students will meet behind the Student Union at 2 p.m. to decorate their cars.

Bernie Shively, athletic director, said the team will arrive at the airport at approximately 2:30 p.m. Rides will be provided.

will soon be ready near the armory, and flagstones will connect it with the green concrete walks.
Mr. Peterson said the de-emphasis and improvement programs were instigated because the procession line at graduation passes near these areas. In addition the many new bulbs and shrubs also would serve the improved areas as a horticultural laboratory.

McNulty Appointed
He also announced that Edmund C. McNulty, Rosindale, Mass., was recently employed to take charge of this work and to be the grounds keeper when the program is completed. Mr. McNulty is a graduate of the Stockbridge School of Agriculture and Amherst College. He has had several years' experience in nursery and horticulture work.

Prof. N. R. Elliot of the Horticulture Department is furnishing technical advice and supervision for the project, Mr. Peterson said.

Israel's Envoy Talks Tonight To Educators

David Coitein, minister plenipotentiary of the Embassy of Israel, will speak at 8 o'clock tonight in Memorial Hall to a combined session of the UK Educational Conference and the Kentucky Association of Colleges, Secondary, and Elementary Schools.

The minister will speak on "Making One People Out of Many." Vice President Leo M. Chamberlain will preside at the meeting.

Mr. Coitein is a native Englishman, but moved to Palestine in 1929 to practice law. He edited the Palestine Bulletin in Jerusalem. In 1949 he was appointed Consul General of Israel to the Union of South Africa.

Principal speakers at the opening session at 10 a.m. today are Fred Giesel, business manager of the Cincinnati Post, and Cloyd S. Steinmetz, director of sales training, Reynolds Metals Company, Louisville.

The purpose of the conference is to bring teachers and administrators together to study current educational problems.

Museum To Set Up Hopi Indian Display

Prof. Raymond Thompson, curator of the Anthropology Museum, has announced that a display on the Hopi Indians will be set up in the museum the first of the week.

This will be of special interest to those taking "Societies Around the World," as their course of study will run along these lines, Prof. Thompson said.

Deans Of Women Meet On Campus

UK will be host today and Saturday to the annual meeting of the Kentucky Association of Deans of Women. The session will be highlighted by a dinner tonight at the Lafayette Hotel.

The group will then attend a joint meeting of the Kentucky Association of Colleges, Secondary, and Elementary Schools, to hear an address at Memorial Hall. Elections will be held at a luncheon meeting Saturday, at Boyd Hall. Dean Frances Jennings, president of Transylvania College will preside.

UK Guignol To Present Play Nov. 5

"Death of a Salesman," Arthur Miller's drama which won a number of literary awards in 1949, will be the first production of Guignol Theater's silver anniversary season.

Director Wallace Briggs said the play will open Nov. 5 for a four-day run with James Harmon, Lexington, in the title role. UK students in the cast include Don Clayton and Sheila Strunk, graduate students; Don Hartford, senior; Ed Faulkner, junior, and Bill Eddy, John E. Richardson, Marshall Amos and Jim Holloway, sophomores.

Also in the cast are Betty Anne Nave as the "salesman's" wife, and Ed Henry, Ellen Drake, Evelyn Greene and Emmy Lou Redmon, all of Lexington.

Deadline To Submit Draft Applications Set For Saturday

The deadline for submitting applications for the Dec. 4 Selective Service College Qualification Test is midnight tomorrow, the National Headquarters of the Selective Service System has announced. Applications post-marked after that time cannot be considered.

Local draft boards have an adequate supply of test application blanks on hand for draft-eligible students. Applications should be mailed to the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, N. J.

Parking Regulations Announced By SGA

The Student Government Association has issued new parking regulations effective Nov. 1. They are:

1. Any tickets given after that date: the first two tickets will be $1.00 each; the second two will be $2.00 each; and any tickets after this will be $5.00 each.
2. Any student parking an unregistered car on the campus will be fined $5.00.

Anyone wishing to register their car may do so with the SGA secretary in the office of Dean Kirwan in the Administration building.

Graduate Aid Being Offered In Education

College seniors and recent education graduates who are planning to start their first year of graduate study in September are eligible to apply for a Danforth Foundation Fellowship.

Sponsored by the Danforth Foundation of St. Louis, Mo., these fellowships are also open to students in other undergraduate fields besides education.

Dr. Ellis F. Hartford has been named the liaison officer to work with the foundation on the selection of candidates. Students with or without financial need may apply. These appointments are primarily a relationship of encouragement, promising financial aid within prescribed conditions where there is need.

All Danforth Fellows will participate in the annual Danforth Foundation Conference on Teaching at Camp Minniewan in Michigan next September.

Qualifications for a candidate include evidence of superior intellectual ability in college record, good health and emotional stability, outstanding personality and concern for people, choice of vocation of teaching as a form of Christian service, and deep religious convictions.

English Instructors Discuss Composition

Approximately 20 Kentucky colleges and high schools will be represented by English instructors in a Kentucky Conference on Composition today and tomorrow held on the UK campus.

The conference was suggested and planned several months ago by a group of college and high school English teachers who selected an advisory council to direct the event.

Dr. William S. Ward, head of the Department of English at the University, is chairman of the council and made the announcement of the conference.

Others serving on the council are Meta Riley Emberger, University of Louisville; Maureen Faulkner, Berea College; George P. Faust, UK; Charles T. Hazelrigg, Centre College; Helen F. Holmes, Kentucky State College; Louise Kannapell, Nazareth College; Edwin Larson, Murray State College; Besse M. Rose, Cumberland College.

According to Dr. Ward, one objective of the conference is to draw up the general features of a sound writing program that will be acceptable to the colleges and high schools of the state. Another objective is to bring about a closer coordination of the writing programs at the two educational levels.

It is planned that the agreements will be published as a bulletin containing a set of agreed-upon standards and a number of representative themes and criticisms. Distribution of this bulletin to high school and college English teachers is an ultimate objective.

Artists may submit any number of entries in the categories of painting, prints, sculpture and ceramics. Dr. Weismann emphasized that all entries must be labeled with the artist's name, title of object, medium and price.

Grad Exams To Be Given

Graduate Record Examinations, required of applicants for admission to a number of graduate schools, will be given at examination centers throughout the country, four times in the coming year, Educational Testing Service has announced.

This fall, candidates may take the GRE on Nov. 7 and 8. In 1953, the dates are Jan. 30 and 31, April 17 and 18, and July 10 and 11. The testing service advises each applicant to inquire of the graduate school of his choice which of the examinations he should take and on which dates.

The GRE tests offered include a test of general scholastic ability, general achievement in six broad fields of undergraduate study, and advanced level tests of achievement in various subject matter fields.

Application forms and a Bulletin of Information may be obtained from college advisors or directly from Educational Testing Service, P. O. Box 592, Princeton, N. J.

Annual Presentation Of Sorority Pledges Planned For Nov. 13

Pledge presentation, sponsored by the Women's Panhellenic Association, will be held Nov. 13 at 7:30 p.m. in Memorial Hall.

The purpose of this annual presentation is to introduce the new pledges of the sororities to the administration and to the other sororities. The scholarship cup, awarded to the sorority with the highest over-all standing for the spring semester, will also be presented. Mary Jo Reynolds, president of Panhellenic, will preside at the presentation. Tau Sigma, the campus modern dance group, will entertain during the intermission.

Presidents of the alumni clubs of each group are to be special guests at the presentation. All fraternity members may attend.

Little Girls Aren't Exactly As Mother Goose Proclaims

Just what females are made of is something that occupies the interest of most men sooner or later. Many of us, going on information supplied back in our more impressionable kindergarten days, still think of the fair sex in terms of the misleading rhyme that asserts: Sugar and spice and everything nice; that's what little girls are made of.

That clever little bit of propaganda goes almost unchallenged during the grade school period despite a few signs that all isn't as it's painted. Like the sweet little chick who giggles delightedly when teacher gives a switching to some hapless male who brought a snake into the classroom. Or the sweet one's innocent sister who deliberately wears pig-tails just so they can be pulled occasionally or dunked into an inkwell and then two-facedly howls to teacher when some poor male does what comes naturally.

Pretty Green Walks Are All Very Nice, But So Is Safety

Lovers of beauty will be delighted to learn that the University is going all out in an effort to beautify botanical gardens. Even the sidewalks are being tinted a delicate green so they'll merge with the surrounding grass and not offend the eye of the discriminating stroller.

Possibly there are some who will resent the new sidewalks, but not us. Despite our ink-smeared hands, we on the Kernel enjoy beauty and the other fine things of life just as much as the next fellow. We think the sidewalks will be an improvement, and if they aren't, what's the difference? You won't be able to see them anyway.

One thing bothers us though. Love of beauty has a rival for complete dominion of our affection—we're quite fond of our necks.

Any of you taken a stroll down the steps of Miller Hall lately . . . or tried to climb up the front entrance to Frazer Hall? Those crumbling, sinking steps are no longer just a mere disgrace to the University, they've become downright dangerous.

It doesn't really make a bit of difference to us what color the concrete is—whether it's red, green, blue, or just dirty old grey—but it would be nice to see workmen fix up those steps before some hapless student breaks a leg while en route to an 8 o'clock class some misty morning.

These initial suspicions that the real article doesn't quite jibe with her advanced billing come close to downright certainty in the mind of a fairly alert male by the time he gets to high school. After graduation, the perfidy and plain contrariness of the female become even more obvious. Additional suspicions as to the true nature of woman are brought to light by mature experience and conversations with married comrades.

Being aware of the general situation, we were highly gratified the other day when we ran across a chemical analysis of woman. We present it with the earnest suggestion that it be adopted by the nation's schools in place of the misleading doctrine that is currently being taught.

The analysis:

The average human female is made up of 30 to 40 teaspoons of salt, eight to 10 gallons of water, enough lime to whitewash a small garage, an amount of glycerine capable of exploding a good-sized bomb, enough gluten to make 2,200 match heads, sufficient fat to produce several pounds of soap, iron for a six-penny nail, sulphur enough to rid a dog or cat of fleas, and one-quarter pound of sugar.

Men of the future have a right to know the truth. A quarter-pound of sugar is not nearly enough to sweeten up such a mixture of salt, water, lime, glycerine, glue, phosphorus, grease, iron, and sulphur.

Patients Need Quiet

Lexington city officials have informally asked the Kernel to enlist the aid of University students in cutting down the noise that constantly disrupts the rest and convalescence of patients in near-by Good Samaritan hospital.

Due to its unusually fine medical facilities, Lexington is known as the medical center of eastern Kentucky. Patients from communities hundreds of miles away are brought here for treatment. Many of these people are in critical or serious condition and need almost absolute quiet if they are to have even a chance for recovery.

Traffic on Limestone accounts for at least 90 per cent of the noise around Good Samaritan and we're certain UK students don't deliberately contribute to the total. It may help, however, if all of us, particularly those who live near the hospital, would remember the need for silence.

"Don't worry, honey, our housemother goes wild on Halloween."

Brevities From Other Colleges:

You know those windows that you can see out of when you're inside, but nobody can see you from the outside? Well, the rest room in the new girls' dorm at Alabama Polytechnic Institute is equipped with such windows—only they were installed backwards by mistake.

Asked by a student pollster whether she preferred male students in ROTC uniforms or in civilian dress, an Akron university coed replied, "If they wear uniforms then they don't have to buy so many clothes. That leaves them with more money to spend on me."

If you think the ratio of males to females here is rough, try attending Davidson college. Its enrollment: 825 men, one woman.

Ad in the UCLA Daily Bruin: "Will the blonde young lady who wore sun glasses Thursday morning (besides other things) be in the cafeteria between 11 and 12 a.m.?"

"In Gruner's case, he voluntarily received two such shots the morning of the LSU game. The idea was to speed recovery so he could practice that next week, not so he could play in the afternoon's game."

Boys Like Barracks

Dear Editor:

Within the last two weeks the Kernel has carried many derogatory quotes and remarks concerning the Scott Street Barracks. These have appeared in editorials, letters to the Editor, and reports by the University Administration. Not a single word in defense of the Barracks has appeared, and as residents of the Barracks we feel that it is our duty to rectify this mistake.

Therefore, we would like to take issue with those who feel that the Scott Street Barracks are the "slums of the University". The word "slums" not only implies poor living conditions but also low character of the residents. We feel ourselves lucky to be living on Scott Street. Compared to the crowded condition of many fraternity houses and dorms where four or five people live in a single room amidst a welter of clothing, books, and dirt, the single rooms of the Barracks are a definite improvement. The rooms in the Barracks are kept cleaner and in better condition than in most other men's residence units.

As for the character of the residents, most of them are serious-minded upper-classmen and graduate students. Their desire to study is evidenced by the fact that the Barracks have consistently ranked well above the men's overall standings. Anyone who wishes to study here can do so, not being annoyed by room-mates and excessive noise.

Granting that the barracks are temporary structures, they are functional. The bathroom facilities are above those of the men's dorms, we have a linen exchange, Bendix washing machines charging only ten cents, and privacy.

We would like to suggest that the new dormitory planned by the University be built on the same plan as the barracks. This dormitory being used to house upperclassmen and graduate students.

The Frying Pan

Unhappy Student Blames His Woes On Schedulitis

By KATHY FRYER

You hear all kinds of sad stories in campus gripe sessions.

Take the character with schedulitis. To hear him talk, you'd think he registered just before they took down the tables in the Coliseum.

He has a required class in advanced tiddlywinks from 4 to 5 o'clock every afternoon, three Saturday classes, and a noon lab in space ship design.

He mournfully describes his full set of 8 o'clock classes on the opposite side of the campus from where he lives and the night class he stumbled into by reading the catalog wrong.

Also in the Sad Story Department is the guy who's burdened with five professors who each think he's taking one course at UK and they're teaching it.

These profs glibly reel off a list of novels, periodicals, and reserve room books to be read before January and a couple of term papers the student can whip up in his spare time.

It may help our sad sack to get more out of the courses, but it will probably just boost the sale of coffee, light bulbs, and No Doz pills in Lexington to a new all-time high.

Next to Impossible Department:

Finding a UK student who hasn't heard of Pogo. Getting your Kyian picture taken at the last minute.

Telling those kakhi-uniformed ROTC boys apart when you see a group of them together.

When you hear someone say "PR," does he mean Pershing Rifles, Public Relations, or Periodical Room?

By the way, what happened to those muscular law students that used to play football in front of Lafferty Hall last fall?

You may remember seeing some of UK's best-dressed young men without their usual coats, ties, and narrow brim hats running through vicious scrimmages between classes. It's even rumored that a couple of professors participated.

The powers-that-be must have taken a dim view of the boys using Lafferty lawn for a miniature gridiron, for they had it covered up with tobacco stalks and manure one gray morning.

Lawyers are persistent souls, however. The boys just moved their game across the walk to the large grassy plot in front of the library.

Haven't seen a single scrimmage this year, though. Has some stern edict banning the "games" been passed down from the dean? Have the profs loaded so much more classwork on the boys that they don't have time for football? Whatever the reason, the campus doesn't look quite the same without Bryant's sixth string working out every afternoon.

"What's the idea of stopping this cab in the middle of the block?"

"I thought I heard the young lady holler 'Stop.'"

"Go on. She wasn't talking to you."

Our Readers Speak: Criticizing Sports Editor On Gruner

Dear Editor:

I am writing this . . . because through my high school and college days I worked on school papers and thus feel I know some of your problems . . . I believe one function of any paper is to foster its school—not to tear down and destroy.

I am referring to this "nohle" passage about "Bunky" Gruner which appeared in Tom Easterling's "Sports Sidelights" in last week's Kernel:

Harold "Bunky" Gruner has issued a statement that he was misquoted by two Louisville papers concerning the recent flare-up over outside aid to UK football players. During Bunky's high school days it was these same two papers that made him the most sought after player ever to come out of Louisville. The publicity given Gruner by these two papers made it possible for Gruner to nail down a starting berth on his high school team without trying. When Gruner tried the same thing here at UK he found out that he would have to work to break into the starting line-up. It seems to us when a player says he is ready to play on Saturday afternoon he should be ready to take part in practice the following Tuesday. Two or three times during the LSU game we noticed Bunky warming up on the sidelines.

I think the newspapers dug to the bottom to make Bunky feel ill at ease (partly, admittedly, by his own mis-doings), but I think it unfair and unsportsmanlike for the Kernel sports editor to dig even deeper into the past and bring up things the present student body does not know and can not refute.

It might interest Mr. Easterling (although he should have found out before he wrote his article) that, referring to his second-to-last sentence, Bunky's leg was shot with 12 shots of novocain that Saturday. Of course he was "ready to play." With that deadening they could have cut his leg off and he wouldn't have felt a thing! By Tuesday that deadening had worn off and he hadn't had one hour of sleep since Friday night. Of course he didn't feel like he was ready to take part in practice. An admission of this is the fact that after Bunky has his leg "fixed" in Louisville, he is to send the bill to the University.

Yours, for a better Kernel . . . hoping this criticism is taken in the constructive way it is intended.

Mrs. Richard Thompson

Editor's Note - When questioned about Mrs. Thompson's statement concerning the 12 novocain shots, Athletic Director Bernie A. Shively asserted, "Novocain is a prescribed treatment used on bad bruises to speed recovery. It is recommended by

Farris Elected To Office

Egan B. Farris, chief engineer of the Maintenance and Operations Department, was elected secretary-treasurer of the newly organized Southeastern Association of University and College Physical Plant Administrators at a meeting in Auburn, Ala., last week.

Garrigus Attends Chicago Meeting

Dr. Wesley P. Garrigus, professor of animal husbandry, has been chosen by the American Feed Manufacturers Association to serve on a committee to appraise the current feed supply and feed situation.

Dr. Garrigus met with 22 other men from colleges and universities throughout the nation in Chicago Oct. 30-31 to discuss potential feed requirements for the nation's livestock and poultry industries. They discussed the probable need for meat, milk, and eggs during the next year.

This is the 11th year the feed industry has selected a group of experts to draw up a total estimate on feed usage.

Mr. And Miss F.T.A. To Be Named For '52

Mr. and Miss F.T.A. of 1952 will be elected at the next meeting of the Future Teachers of America at 7:30 Thursday night in the Student Union. This is an annual event in connection with American Education Week.

A panel of student teachers will discuss "On the Job Problems."

Kappa Delta Pi Will Meet

Candidates for initiation will be voted on at the next business meeting of Kappa Delta Pi, national education honorary, at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the University High library.

Phi Eta Sigma To Meet

John Walker, president of Phi Eta Sigma, announces that there will be a meeting at 7 p.m. next Monday in the Student Union. A report from the delegate of the Kentucky chapter of Phi Eta Sigma to their national convention will be given at the meeting.

Pre-Med Society To Have Speakers

Bill Pesci, president of Pryor Pre-Medical Society, recently announced that Dr. J. Murray Kinsman, dean of the University of Louisville Medical College, and Dr. Arch Cole, chairman of the admission committee, will visit the campus Wednesday.

They will visit various departments and laboratories during the afternoon. They will speak to the Society at 7:30 p.m. in Room 200 of the Funkhouser building.

Home Ec Honorary Lists Pledges

New pledges of Phi Upsilon Omicron, home economics honorary, are Margaret Haymes, Rebecca Langford, Jane Howk, Barbara Baldwin, Pat Hutchison, Eloise Cooley, Lou Nell Pitchford, and Martha Hackworth.

Initiation will be held Sunday morning.

PR Holds Pledge Meeting

Pershing Rifles held its first pledge meeting Oct. 15. About 100 prospects attended the meeting. The exhibition platoon performed a precision drill commanded by Lee Congleton. Movies were shown of last year's drill meet at Ohio University at Athens, where the UK Pershing Rifles outfit placed second to the host outfit. The UK unit has won 13 out of 16 drill meets.

Seventy candidates reported last week for the opening drill session. These drills will continue from 5 to 6 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday for several months before members will be chosen.

Freshmen and sophomores who have not yet tried out may still do so, Congleton said.

Political Science Club Approves Constitution

The newly organized Political Science Club this week approved a constitution and submitted it to the Student Government Association for approval. Prof. J. E. Reeves was named faculty advisor.

Theta Sigma Phi Lists Pledges

Theta Sigma Phi, women's honorary journalistic society, held its formal pledging ceremony last Thursday, Barbara Hickey, president of the organization, announced this week.

New pledges are Carol Jean Dorton, Katherine Fryer, Kim Sanford, Judith Henry, Peggy Sabel, Dianne Renaker, Elaine Moore, Dolly Sulivent, Jody Terney and Betty Baugh.

Chemistry Broadcasts Scheduled

Jim Bradbury, president of the American Chemical Society, announced this week that the radio programs, discussing "News About Chemistry," will be presented over WBKY. The programs can be heard at 9 p.m. each Thursday evening. The American Chemical Society and Alpha Chi Sigma, professional society for chemistry, will alternate in presenting the programs.

Humanities Club To Meet

The Humanities Club will hold its second meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Music Lounge of the Fine Arts building. At that time, James McConky, author and professor of creative writing, will speak on "E. M. Forester: Some Aspects of the Novel."

Book-Of-The-Month Jury Will Meet

The Book-of-the-Month jury will meet at 7 p.m. Monday in Room 127 of the Student Union. They will, at that time, select the club which will give the first program on the book "Darkness at Noon."

Outing Club To Take Trip

The Student Union Outing Club will sponsor its first overnight trip of the semester this weekend at Camp Daniel Boone on the Kentucky River.

Members who plan to make the trip should pay the fees in Room 122 of the Student Union by 5 p.m. today. The fee of $2.75 includes meals, transportation, and lodging. Cars will be provided for members at 2 p.m. Saturday in front of the Student Union.

Pool Tournament Planned

A pool tournament, sponsored by the Sports Committee of the Student Union, will begin Tuesday. An entry fee of 25c per person must be paid in the game room of the Student Union before 6 p.m. today. The pairings will be posted in the Game Room Monday.

Phi Delta Kappa To Meet

Education needs in Kentucky as seen by the average layman will be discussed by E. S. Dabney, president of the Security Trust Company, at a meeting of Phi Delta Kappa, graduate men's education honorary, at noon Wednesday in the Student Union.

Mr. Dabney was the chairman of the Committee on Functions and Resources, a laymen's group appointed by Governor Weatherby to make an intensive study of the commonwealth's education needs.

Before signing a receipt for his pay check, the instructor was handed a slip with the wording: "Your salary is your personal business—a confidential matter—and not to be disclosed to anyone else."

He read it carefully, then shielding the paper with his hand, he wrote, "I won't mention it to anyone. I'm just as much ashamed of it as you are."

Brown's party was a roaring success except in one respect—there were no napkins. The store was sold out of paper ones and the linen napkins hadn't come back from the laundry. So Brown mounted a chair and announced:

"Ladies and gentlemen, there are no napkins but at frequent intervals a large, woolly dog will pass among you."

The Pre-Medical Recommendations Board will honor Dr. J. Murray Kinsman, dean of the University of Louisville School of Medicine, and Dr. Arch Cole, chairman of the board of admission, at a dinner at 6 p.m. Wednesday in the Student Union.

Dr. Kinsman and Dr. Cole will speak on the requirements for admission to medical school at 7:30 p.m. in Room 200 of the Funkhouser Building. They will also discuss "Subject Matter in the Individual Personality." Following the speeches there will be an open discussion. The meeting will be open to all pre-medical students. Fraternity members will be excused from fraternity meetings by a ruling of Interfraternity Council.

Members of the board who have planned the dinner are Dr. M. M. White, dean of College of Arts and Science; Dr. J. W. Archdeacon, associate professor of anatomy; L. W. Cochran, instructor of physics; Dr. L. L. Boyarsky, assistant professor of anatomy and physiology; Dr. A. C. Brauer, professor of zoology; and Dr. Charles Barkenbus, professor of organic chemistry.

Sadie Hawkin's Day No Longer Planned

Sadie Hawkin's week will not be scheduled this year, Leslie Morris, publicity chairman of Keys, announced this week. A well-known orchestra will appear in Lexington on the date previously scheduled for the Sadie Hawkin's dance.

"Because of the conflict in dates, and also because the original Lili Abner got married," Morris said, "we decided to schedule a different type dance at a later date."

Tentative plans have been made to have a Valentine's Day dance, Feb. 14.

"Yes...I Condemned THE CATHOLIC CHURCH"

"And you would, too," wrote a non-Catholic recently, "if all the things I heard about it were true."

"For years, I kept hearing that the Catholic Church was opposed to the Bible and tried to suppress it. I was told that the Church had changed Christ's teaching and practiced pompous pagan forms of worship. It was told to me that Catholics worship statues and images, and that the Catholic Church defied God's law and changed the Sabbath."

"But now I have learned that these stories and many others about the Catholic Church are not true—and never were."

Every day, thousands of our non-Catholic friends and neighbors are discovering, as this man did...that Catholic belief, worship and history are widely misrepresented and misunderstood.

That is why we publish these advertisements...and invite you to write for free explanatory pamphlets. We want you to know us as we are—not as false rumors and slanders represent us to be. We want you to know...if only for your own information...what the Catholic Church actually teaches, and what we Catholics actually believe.

This enables you to get authentic information about the Catholic Church—to investigate in the privacy of your own home. Then...even though you may not agree with Catholic beliefs and practices...you will at least understand them. Only then will you be able fairly and in good conscience to judge our Faith and what it is founded upon.

But more than truth and fairness are involved. For if it is true...as we claim it is...that the Catholic Church is the Church established by Christ, it is vital to your salvation that you investigate the genuineness of this claim. Cats Beat Cincy; Play Miami Tonight

Hurricanes Have Yet To Defeat Kentucky

By Charles Archer

Kentucky's young, revamped football Wildcats who weathered a storm in beating Cincinnati 14-6 last week must face a hurricane tonight at 7:15 in Miami's Orange Bowl Stadium as they try for their third victory of the season.

That hurricane will be the University of Miami's revenge-minded Hurricanes who have bitter memories of the 32-0 shellacking given them by the Cats last fall on Stoll Field. Miami will be trying for its first victory over a Kentucky eleven, having been beaten twice in the Orange Bowl by 25-5 in 1948 and 21-6 in 1949.

Coach Bryant was pleased with play of the Wildcats in the Cincinnati game as they repulsed two Bearcat scoring threats in the first half and struck for two touchdowns in the second half to gain a hard-earned 14-6 victory.

Bryant used 25 freshmen and sophomore players in the contest, experimenting for a combination that would get the ailing Cats on the victory trail. Some of the rookies played with such determination that they will be used extensively against the Hurricanes tonight.

Miami In Peak Condition

While the Wildcats were going through light workouts during the week before flying down to Miami yesterday, Coach Andy Gustafson announced that his Hurricanes would be able to start its strongest backfield tonight for the first time this season.

Miami quarterback Don James, a product of the Massillon, Ohio, football factory, has started every game, but one of the top backs in the other three spots has always been out of action.

James will be a threat to the porous Wildcat pass defense with his strong pitching attack. He has 25 completions in 40 attempts. He has passed for the two touchdowns Miami has scored through the air. Overall, the Hurricanes have connected on 36 of 67 tries for 439 yards.

Through the first five games these three have averaged over five yards per try. Constantino has averaged 6.1 yards per play, Moschetti 5.6, and Mallios, after a poor start, has upped his average to five yards per try. In the last two games he has averaged 6.6 yards per carry and scored four touchdowns.

Chickillo Is Top Guard

Miami has all-American candidate Nick Chickillo operating from a guard position to bolster the Hurricane front wall. Chickillo, a 220-pound speedster, normally plays on offense only, but is capable of playing 60 minutes if necessary.

The engagement with Miami brings to the forefront a new problem for the troubled Wildcats to cope with. Actually, the problem is two-fold as national statistics rank the Hurricanes among the top ten in the country on both its running attack and total defense.

Kentucky has given up an average of 179 yards a game to the opponents' ground attack while Miami has been averaging better than 250 yards from scrimmage per game. On defense Miami's total defense rates well among the nation's leaders. Their opponents have averaged less than 210 yards per game on total offense. In contrast, Kentucky has managed to maintain a normal total gain of 245 yards in six games.

Unless the statistics tend to give a wrong impression, the Hurricanes rate 106 yards better than the Wildcats. And, Kentucky scouts point out, that's too much of an edge to give a team like Miami, whose only decisive defeat has been at the hands of powerful Alabama.

Miami Improving

UK coaches maintain that Miami has improved with every game and seemed at its best last Friday in beating Marquette 20-6. In previous games, a 45-0 victory over VMI in the season opener preceded the 7-21 loss to Alabama and a close one to Boston University by 7-9. Against Richmond, the Hurricanes won handily 41-6 and the third victory was over Marquette.

Kentucky, returning to the scene of its first major post-season bowl venture—the Orange Bowl, has posted wins at the expense of Texas A. & M. by 10-7 and Cincinnati. The defeats have been to Villanova, 6-25 in the opening game, 7-34 to LSU, and 14-27 to Mississippi State. One of the Wildcats' best early season efforts saw them come from behind in the fourth quarter to tie Ole Miss 13-13.

The Wildcats will enter the Miami game with upwards of seven regulars missing or available for only spot

I-M Playoff Start Monday

Intramural touch football play heads into the homestretch next week with the final playoffs beginning Monday night. Nine fraternity teams and five independents will collide in a single elimination tournament to decide the champion.

Although defending champ SAE is undefeated, there are several other contenders for the crown. Perhaps the most formidable of these is the Independent Rebels. Paced by the passing of Bob Sither and the pass receiving of his brother Gordon, the Rebels appear to be the strongest club in the league. In their first two games, the Rebel defense held opponents to a total of one first down.

ATO Remain Undefeated

In action the past week, ATO remained undefeated by edging SPE 7-0. A pass from Elswick to Bastin accounted for the winning TD in the first period. PKT was given a forfeit over ASP in an earlier contest.

TKE spilled AGR 7-6 in the last fraternity contest of the evening. The Tokes won in a sudden-death period. A pass from Bouchy to Ward in the first period gave TKE first blood but AGR sent the game into overtime on a pass from Pedigo to Ridley late in the second half.

In the last game of the evening, the powerful Rebels smashed the Newman Club 33-0. Bob Sither passed for five touchdowns while brother Gordon on the receiving end of three.

Game Is Protested

A 7-2 win for SAE over SN was nullified Thursday when the latter's protest was declared official. The dispute arose when one of the officials erred in blowing his whistle at the wrong time. SAE was driving for a score late in the game when the play occurred. The official's mistake resulted in SAE being given some undeserved yardage that resulted in their winning touchdown. The game was replayed Thursday of this week but the result was not available at press time.

In other games Thursday, LKA won a forfeit from Triangle 1-0, PDT clipped winless ZBT 13-0, and BSU remained undefeated by edging the Civil Engineers 6-0.

PKA Beats KS 7-0

In Monday's games, DTD won over Farm House in a forfeit; PKA clipped KS 7-0 on a pass interception by Hugh Roe; and KA trimmed SX 7-0 on a Hacker to Sanders aerial.

The Civil Engineers showed that they will be worth watching by scoring a convincing 13-0 triumph over Men's Dorm. Chuck Phillips, former Wildcat footballer, led the engineers to victory with a scoring pass and a touchdown run.

Fuddell's 40 yard sprint for a TD was the difference as SPE edged PKT 6-0 Tuesday evening.

Momentarily stunned by an opening safety by BSU, the powerful Rebels rebounded to trim the latter 12-2. Sullivan put the Rebels in the lead with a run-back of an intercepted pass and Rishell finished the evening's scoring by taking a pass from Bob Sither.

duty. Latest addition to the crippled list is freshman Bill Wheeler, an offensive tackle from Pikeville, who started his first game against Cincinnati. He suffered a broken wrist and is expected to be lost for the season.

Kentucky Scores Twice In Second Half For Win

By LARRY MEYER

The Wildcats defeated the Cincinnati Bearcats 14-6 in a game slightly reminiscent of the 1950 contest with this same team here in Lexington.

That year the Cats, led by the quarterbacking of Vito "Babe" Parrilli, ran over Cincy 41-7. The comparison stems from the fact that the Babe threw only two or three passes in the first half, relying mainly on running. The second half was a different story as Babe passed for three scores in about five minutes and went on to total five scoring passes for the game.

In Saturday's game, Dick Shatto, freshman quarterback, started and in the entirety of the first half, threw only one or two aerials as the Cats relied on the running attack of Allen Felch and Ralph Paolone, fullback converted to halfback slot.

Hunt Takes Over

The second half found Herbie "The Finger" Hunt in the quarterback post as he threw a third quarter pass to Big Steve Mellinger for 19 yards. Steve took it on the Cincy 45 and took off like a halfback to score.

The score being tied at the intermission, this made the score 6-0. Bob Bassitt converted the extra point to give the Cats a 7-0 lead.

This extra point was the margin of safety the Kentuckians needed, as the most points the Cincinnati could muster was one touchdown and no extra point. Cincinnati scored in the last two minutes of the game when Gene Rossi heaved a ten yard pass to Glen Dillard in the end zone and Pisanelli missed the extra point.

Carlitz Snags 22 Yard Pass. Meanwhile Hunt has thrown a 22 yard pass to Clyde Carlitz who took the toss to the five yard marker. Hunt took the ball over from the one to give the Kentuckians a 13-0 lead and 14-0 as Bassitt again converted. This all happened before the Bearcats picked up their touchdown.

Despite the fact that Hunt and Shatto attempted only five passes during the course of the afternoon, three were completed to give the Cats 108 yards via the air. Added to this was 165 yards on the ground. Felch, playing with a broken nose received two weeks ago picked up 117 yards of these yards by himself, for an average per try of almost six yards.

Cats Fumble Seven Times

Fumbleitis, the disease which has been plaguing the Cats all season, accounted for seven more attacks, losing four of them to the opponents. It looked, for awhile in the first half, as if the Cats were going to fumble the game away again but the offense settled their nerves and proceeded to play even ball.

Gene Rossi, Cincy ace quarterback, completed 19 passes in 35 attempts for 192 yards. The Bearcat running team totaled only 92 yards for a nine yard advantage in total yardage. Most of Rossi's passes were short ones and were a constant thorn to the UK defensive backs.

The Cats came up with one of their best pass defenses of the season as the forward line rushed Rossi all afternoon without giving him a free chance to pass. Howard Schnelberger, a Louisville freshman, and Jerry Minguo, a freshman from Portsmouth, Va., led the defensive line charge. This rushing restrained Rossi from heaving any long dangerous aerials.

Mayo's Punts Outstanding

One of the brightest points in the Kentucky cause was the kicking of another freshman, Jim Mayo from Prestonsburg. In four punts, Mayo averaged 44.5 yards and reminded one of the punting of Dominic Fucci of a few years back. None of Mayo's punts were returned to the excess of five yards per punt.

Coach Bryant employed mainly comers on the Cat squad as he sent only one senior on the offensive squad and two on defense as starters. Kentucky followers are pointing even more to the years ahead when this young squad achieves maturity.

UK Cagers Seek Depth From Subs

Just how much depth will UK's basketball quintet have this season?

That would be a difficult question to answer this early in the year. But data pertinent to that answer is being recorded daily on the spacious Memorial Coliseum floor as some 19 Wildcats are put through their paces each afternoon under the watchful eyes of Coach Adolph Rupp.

The five returning lettermen—Bill Evans, Cliff Hagan, Frank Ramsey, Gayle Rose, and Lou Tsiropoulos—are capable of forming the nucleus of the Kentucky attack in 1952-53. But after them, what then?

Who will be their replacements should they foul out or come up with an "off" night?

Guard Willie Rouse, a six-foot, 160-pound junior, gave his own answer to that question last February. He saved the Cats from defeat at the hands of DePaul by stealing the ball and scoring the winning bucket in the last minute of play. Rouse, a product of University High, shows plenty of hustle and is developing an accurate shooting eye.

Another junior, forward Gene Neff, can expect to see plenty of action. Neff, who is from Eaton, Ohio, stands 6'2" and weighs 185. He is a good rebounder who can give and take with the best of them.

Jim Duff, a newcomer to the University scene, can also be counted on to help clear the boards. The 6'4", 200-pound junior is a transfer from Pikeville Junior College. He plays forward and is from Garrett.

Center Ron Clark, who at 6'6" is the tallest man on the squad, forward Jim Flynn, and guards, Jerry Brooks, Neal Cosby, and Houston Nutt will be ready when needed. All are sophomores.

Player of the Week

Herbie Hunt Selected For Outstanding Play

By STAN PORTMANN

Fumbleitis, that disease so prevalent among inexperienced football players, was once again threatening to hospitalize Kentucky hopes for victory against the Cincinnati Bearcats last Saturday afternoon. Caught in a kill or cure situation, Coach Bryant found his best medicine for fumbleitis in the deft quarterbacking of Herbie, "The Finger," Hunt.

"Player of the Week" Hunt, a junior quarterback from Mayfield, proved to be the spark that set the Kentucky offense to rolling up the 14-6 victory over their northern rival from across the Ohio. With five minutes left in the third quarter, Hunt tossed a 19 yard pass to end Steve Meilinger, who plucked the ball out of the air with a "baseball" catch and outraced two defenders the remaining 55 yards to break the scoreless deadlock.

Cincinnati Gambles

The deficit on their side of the scoring ledger forced the Bearcats to gamble and they lost the ball near the fifty on a fourth and three situation that failed. Hunt was quick to take advantage of the situation and engineered the Cats to their second TD. A 29-yard pass from Hunt to end Clyde Carlig was good to the Cincy five yard line to set up the score.

Hunt gained his nickname "The Finger" from his ability to hold the ball for extra point placements.

Radio Equipped

Saturday was no exception as Hunt held the two successful attempts made by Bob Bassitt.

The 21-year-old Hunt stands 6-1 and weighs in at 161. He is considered to be an outstanding field general by his coaches and calls an excellent game in all situations. He shines in the all important T-quarterback duty of carrying out his handoffs and fakes. His passing, while not sensational from the Parli viewpoint, has the habit of clicking in the clutch.

Steve Meilinger played his average game, which is always nothing less than sensational. Besides his outstanding offensive play, Steve was all over the field as the defensive safety. In these days of two platoon football, it is important to note that Meilinger only missed two plays in the entire ball game. Those following his 55 yard touchdown scamper.

Felix Averages 5.6 Yards

Fullback Allen Felix was the big factor in Kentucky's ground game. In 21 carries, that's overtime for one man, he gained 117 yards for an average of 5.6 per rush.

While Hunt, Meilinger, and Felix were providing the offensive show, it was the unbending efforts of the defensive platoon that gave the Wildcats their margin of victory.

Twice in the first half the fumble stricken offense gave the ball to Cincinnati inside the Kentucky thirty. Both times the defense rose up to smother the Bearcats' attempts to push the ball into the end zone.

It is an accepted fact that the best defense against a good passer is to rush him off his feet. The Kentucky line did this so effectively that the sensational Rossi was forced to throw to the short men and settle for a small gain. Although Rossi completed 19 of his passes they do not present an accurate picture as evidenced by the score.

So while the Kernel tipped their hat to the boys who contributed to the scoring, we are going to give the hat to the defensive platoon.

Sports Sidelights

By TOM EASTERLING

Twenty-five of the UK players who saw action in Cincinnati are sophomores and freshmen. Among the freshmen who have come a long way since September are Bradley Mills, who, playing his first game as a defensive halfback, intercepted two Cincinnati passes. One of them stopped a Cincinnati drive in the closing seconds of the game. Another outstanding job was turned in by Bill Wheeler. Playing his first game at tackle, he suffered a broken wrist in the second half and is probably out for the season. Jerry Mingis from Portsmouth, Va., turned in his usual outstanding job at tackle. Dick Maloney, who moved from defensive safety to defensive halfback, was a thorn in the side of every Bearcat receiver who penetrated his area. Leo Strange and O. E. Philpot did a fine job of backing up the line. In the kicking department Jim Mayo is averaging 42.5 yards per kick and Bob Bassitt has kicked five straight extra points.

On the offensive the Freshmen have quarterback Dick Shatto and halfback Charles Bell supplying a lot of the UK offensive punch.

Sophomores playing outstanding ball were: Clyde Carlig, who made a sensational catch to set up the second UK touchdown and Tom Black, probably the most improved player on the UK squad, who saw action at one of the tackle positions. Moving over to the guard positions, the sophomores really dominate this position with such stalwarts as Joe Koch, John Bailey, Neil Lowry and Clark Ratcliffe playing most of the time. Bill Simpkins, the redhead from Griffin, Ga., has taken over the offensive center position.

Playing defensive secondary are sophomores Earl Carter, Dick Rushing, Jack Hanley and Larry Hennessey. On the offense the second-year men have the top ground gainer in Allen (Ball) Felix, who has come into his own as a fullback. Wallace Mitchell is developing into one of the better specialists at punt returning.

If these boys continue to play the type of ball they have been playing so far this year, Kentucky's football fortunes will soar to new heights the next two years.

Still on the subject of football—an interesting case is developing in Miami, Florida. A former University of Georgia football player is suing the University for $35,000 for injuries he received playing football. He alleges that after he was injured his scholarship was stopped and he did not receive proper medical treatment, thus causing him to be permanently injured. When this type of case pops up it makes us feel good to know that the UK athletic staff not only sees to it that a boy is given a four year scholarship, whether he plays the entire four years or not, but also urges him to get a degree. If it takes longer than four years he will still be carried on the scholarship roll. As for medical treatment, the medical staff attending the athletes is the best anywhere.

The football team is scheduled to arrive at Bluegrass field at 2:30 Saturday afternoon. The time of arrival back in Lexington was announced before the team left for Miami, Thursday morning. Due to delays, this time is not always correct. If you plan to meet the team it should be at Blue Grass field sometime around noon Saturday. They can give you the correct time of arrival.

Cross Country Squad Meets Butler, DePauw

The Kentucky Cross Country team will open its fall campaign tomorrow in a triangular meet with Butler, of Indianapolis and DePauw of Greenfield, Indianapolis.

This year's team will be composed mainly of the returning lettermen from last year. Jay Wallace, captain of the spring track edition, Speedie Price, outstanding distance man, and Al Wiley will again lead the team. Last year's team, in its infancy was undefeated in dual meets and ran second in the Shamrock Cross Country run last Thanksgiving.

New additions to Coach Seaton's squad are Charley Wells and Frank Scott. Wells is a freshman from Maysville, untried in competition but looks surprisingly good for his lack of experience. Scott is a transfer from Kemper Military Academy in Virginia.

As a miller and two-miller, Scott won the Interstate conference title in both these events. He set a conference record in the two mile of 10:17.8. Coach Seaton has great hopes for the future of this boy in the Fall and Spring track teams.

The team will meet Butler and DePauw in a triangular meet. Information on the two opponents was scarce but it is known that DePauw won the Indiana Inter-Collegiate Conference in Cross Country last year. Kentucky has never met either of these teams before but Coach Seaton expects both to be tough. The Butler squad, built around freshmen and sophomores this year, have already won three meets this Fall in three outings. Coach Seaton mentioned the fact that he is discussing a Spring meet with the Butler squad. Butler is well known in track fields for the outstanding teams they produce year in and year out.

The rest of the schedule for this fall calls for a meet with the University of Tennessee here in Lexington on November 8.

The following week, Nov. 15, Berea and Morehead come to Lexington for a triangular meet out at the Piedmont golf course. Also tentatively scheduled here in Lexington on that date is the state high school meet. On the 24th of November, the Southeastern Conference will hold its meet in Atlanta. Then on Thanksgiving morning, the team will take part in the Shamrock 5000 meter run in Louisville, the meet UK placed second in last year, thus winding up the season.

Freshmen Basketballers Have Plenty Of Height

(This is the first in a series of articles giving a thumb-nail description of this year's freshman basketball players.)

By John Ryans

Wendell Clay Evans—Evans is an 18-year-old, 5'3", 195-pound guard from Flemingsburg. He played high school basketball for Fleming County high, where he was captain his senior year. He was selected on the All-Licking River Valley team for his last two years.

Last year he received honorable mention on the Courier-Journal All-State team. Evans was one of the high scorers for the East in the East-West game played last summer at the Memorial Coliseum. He is majoring in commerce and hopes to become a coach after he is graduated.

William C. "Bill" Bibb—Bibb is a 19-year-old, 6'4", 180-pound forward played high school basketball for Coach Lawrence McGinnis at Owensboro high school. He was captain of his high school team and was selected on the Courier-Journal All-State team two years.

Last summer he played for the West team in the East-West game held here. He is also interested in baseball and was one of the men who tried out for the UK baseball team this fall. Bibb is a physical education major in the College of Arts and Sciences.

George Jesse "Jesse" Curry—Curry is one of the three out of state boys on this year's freshman team. He is a 20-year-old, 5'11", 167-pound guard from Portsmouth, Va. Curry attended Woodrow Wilson high, where he was a four-letter man (baseball, basketball, football, and track).

Not only did Jesse letter in each sport, but he also was selected on the Virginia All-State team in each of them. He was selected on the All-State basketball team two years and was also selected as the outstanding player in the state.

Hugh M. Coy—Coy is a 6'1", 185-pound, 18-year-old forward from nearby Richmond. He played his high school basketball at Madison

High of Richmond. Coy was selected on the Courier-Journal All-State second team last year. He played for the East squad in the East-West game played here in Lexington last summer.

Coy is another basketball player interested in baseball. He played high school baseball in high school and hopes to make it a career after graduation. Coy is a commerce major.

Ag College Enrollment Up

30 Per Cent This Fall

Dean Levi J. Horlacher of the College of Agriculture reports a 30 per cent increase in enrollment in the Agriculture College this semester. Registration figures show 148 freshmen enrolled in the college. This exceeds by 42 last year's freshman enrollment of 106.

The doctor diagnosed the English colonel's illness as hydropsy, and explained that that meant that he had too much water in his body.

The whiskey-drinking Briton was indignant. "But, doctor, I've never drunk a drop of water in my life!" He paused. Then, sadly he concluded, "Must have been the lee."

Greeks To Celebrate In Halloween Tradition

Halloween parties will highlight the weekend activities of many Greek organizations.

Parties celebrating the annual "spook day" will be given by the Alpha Sigs, Deltas, Kappa Sigs, Sigma Nus, Phi Taus, Sig Eps, Delta Chis, Tkes, AGRs, and Alpha Gammas. The Lambda Chis are having a Halloween party for crippled children.

New Initiates

The Tri Deltas have initiated the following girls: Gay Hamilton, Gretel Gross, Dottie Pfeiffer, Nancy Wildman, Wilma Robertson, Evelyn Duncan, Barbara Slaughter, Joey Schofield, Ruth McMichael, and Jeannine Archibald.

The new initiates of Alpha Gamma Delta are Jan Clarke, Carol Bunnell, Jean Grant, Jo Harris, Vivian Combs, and Rush Lynche. Initiation was followed by the Feast of the Roses banquet at the Phoenix Hotel.

The officers of the Tri Delta pledge class are Ann Futrell, president; Lillis Beam, vice-president; Judy Hamilton, secretary; and Rae Harris, treasurer.

Chapter Visitor

Chi Omega was visited this week by a chapter advisor, Miss Milam, national visitor from Miami, Fla. She spent three days visiting and advising the Alpha Lambda chapter. The Chi Omegas are also having their first serenade Wednesday evening.

Delta Zeta will hold its Golden Jubilee Tea on Sunday in recognition of its fiftieth year as a sorority.

Delta Zeta presented awards to two of its outstanding seniors, Frances West and Eloise Lorch, at the annual Founder's Day Banquet last Friday. Frances received a bracelet for outstanding service to the sorority and Eloise received a plaque for activities on campus and for outstanding service to the sorority.

Kappas List Pledge Officers

Chickie Schrider has been elected president of the Kappa Kappa Gamma pledge class. Serving with her are Toss Dunlap, secretary; Carrie Adams, treasurer; Nancy Winn Johnson, Marshal; Diane Parr, scholarship chairman; and Jane Walker Tindler, social chairman.

Pledges Compete In 'Derby'

The third annual Sigma Chi Derby will be held at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow on the Intramural Field. The theme for this year's derby, held for all new sorority pledges, is to be "County Carnival."

Six main events will be held during the course of the afternoon. The first of these is a "Surrey Race." Each sorority will enter four contestants who will compose two relay teams. This event is, in reality, a wheelbarrow race. The winner will be judged 50 per cent upon placing among the winners and 50 per cent on the decoration of the wheelbarrow.

The second event is entitled "Pig-Glee." Each sorority will have one representative who will try to catch a greased pig and place it in a cardboard box.

"Turkey Trots" is the title given the third event. Three entrants from each sorority will take part in this relay race.

The fourth event is an old-fashioned Charleston contest called "County Capers." Two contestants from each pledge group will take part in this event. The winners will be chosen on the basis of dancing ability and originality of costume.

A "Tatoo Sack Race" will complete the active contests for the afternoon. Four representatives from each sorority, composing two relay teams, will take part in this event.

To highlight the afternoon's events a contest will be held to choose the "Queen of the Fair."

Each pledge class will nominate two girls. The entrants are to be dressed in sweaters, shorts, and heels and are to be approximately 5'6" in heels. Each contestant will be asked to step inside a silhouette of a "perfect girl." The queen will be chosen upon the basis of her figure in proportion to the silhouette.

Cups will be given to the winners in each of the five events. A trophy will be awarded to the sorority having the highest total number of points and to the Queen of the Derby.

Arch Mainous is chairman of the derby committee and Bill Marcum, Jerry Bradley, Bud Fisher, Carter Glass, and Ray Meyers will serve as supervisors of the events.

Comfortable, Glamorous Footwear Needed For Varied Campus Life

By Claire Wood

College is a down-to-earth proposition. It hurts your feet. Several square miles of campus, many flights of stairs, and lines—meal lines and mail lines, bookstore and bathtub lines—make the Kentucky co-ed realize that shoes are the basis of college life. Her feet do the groundwork, and Josephine College is only as good as her metatarsal arch. In college, shoes make the woman.

The main requisite for college footwear is solid comfort, so no college wardrobe is complete without at least one pair of worn, mellowed loafers. This year, a variety of buttons, straps, and buckles have added distinction to this fundamental footwear. For general comfort, the invariable saddle shoe makes its bid with the loafers, but after these two are recognized, the trend is non-conservative and anything goes.

White bucks, for instance, have been borrowed from the boys, and green, black, brown and navy "flapjacks" of suede are equally popular. Also in suede, the first American shoe, the Indian moccasin has been copied and re-copied this fall. Suede, in fact, is an important element in fall and winter foot fashions. It's good for dress, sport, and casual or classroom wear.

For more formal occasions, for a movie date or a class in which "Somebody" sits across the aisle, "flats" by Capezio, or his more economical and equally stylish cousin, Mary Jane, are perfect. In dozens of colors and variations of a fundamental style (the round-toed slipper with a single strap), they are the foundation of many a complete wardrobe.

The strap also plays an important role in the dress shoe this season. While the plain black pump occasionally sparked by a rhinestone pin or a gold button, will always be the general favorite, a baby Louis or spool heel with a narrow black strap across the arch is smart and new. A single or double ankle strap can be worn and be right; there are many varieties from which to choose, generally in suede.

The ballerina has long since been a classic, and maintains its popularity as a dancing slipper. A blessing to tall girls and just plain comfortable for short ones, they are here to stay.

Alligator, nazi-gator, and lizard skin do much more for the co-ed's feet than they ever did for their original occupants. Expensive and difficult to "break in," they compensate by perfecting the dressy, tailored outfit. Smooth, smart calf is tops for suit wear also, and with a moderate height heel for the old element of comfort, still manages to be "just right" for almost anywhere.

And anywhere is the place that shoes are noticed. They make or break your outfit, to say nothing of your arches—and your disposition. You can't be charming when your feet hurt, and if they do, it's your own fault. With the variety in style and price-range of this season's shoes, even Kentucky girls don't have to go barefoot!

Protestant Groups Sponsor Discussion

Three UK representatives of different denominational groups will go to Kansas City during Christmas vacation as the result of an inter-denominational study group that holds its next meeting tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, the Rev. Lyle Sellards, director of student work at Central Christian Church, said this week.

The group, sponsored by Protestant campus groups in the United Student Christian Council through the YMCA and YWCA, is divided into small groups for serious study on three topics. The subjects discussed are the role of the Christian student in the church, the university, and the world struggle.
